The screenshot shows a website with a decorative background of dollar bills. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for Home, Your Account, FAQ, Contact Us, and Log Out. The main title is "KeyForCash". Below it, a section titled "Your Keying History" contains a note about accuracy and a table of activity logs.

Please note that KeyForCash.com pays for accurately keyed items. However, the system we use for determining accuracy is not always instantaneous. It can sometimes take up to 24 hours to determine whether an item is correct or not. This means the totals below take some time to be finalized. If it looks like you haven't made much money during a recent session, you should check back later. Because your account is continuously updated as accuracy is determined.
